COMING & GOING

Frank Young has returned from Japan where he was stationed for 17 months. A peculiar thing about his service was that although he was in the Navy

all the time, he never boarded a ship. All of his travelling was done by plane.

His father, Wayland Young, and current movements around his house reminded him of the old WPA days when in order to have two men working six were needed. Two were coming, two working and two going.

Mr. Young said his son, Frank,

will probably be in the service before long, so it is a case of coming and going around his home.

HARD TIMES

An American attended a rowing regatta on the Thames, honored by the presence of the royal family and retinue.

Between events the little diving ducks entertained the crowd by going to the bottom for the coppers tossed into the river. The American commenced to flip silver dollars into the stream. A Londoner laid a restraining hand on his arm.

"My word," he warned, "you'll have the king diving!"

"Suspect!" A lady got on a Main Avenue bus the other day, took the only empty seat left—next to a harmless-looking southerner—and opened a map.

It was a detailed map of Korea. The tipsy one leaned over and craned his neck to see what the lady was studying. Finally he said in a diffident tone: "Sure you're on the right bus, lady?"

Not Completely. He—"Look, darling, here is a diamond engagement ring for you."

She—"Oh, it is beautiful, but honey, the diamond has a flaw in it."

He—"You shouldn't notice that, you're in love and love is blind."

Not Worried. Golfer (speakingly)—"I'll report you to the caddy master as soon as I can."

Caddy—"Huh! I needn't start worryin' for ages yet!"

On Guard. Mrs. Delegh (meeting politician at party)—"I've heard a great deal about you."

Politician (absently)—"Possibly, but you can't prove it."

PERSUASIVE PRIZE. "You know," remarked Mr. Smithers, the tailor, fondly regarding the shiny new shooting trophy on his desk, "it's a wonderful experience being the champion pistol shot of the community. You don't know how many people have been in to see me since I won the trophy yesterday!"

"To congratulate you, no doubt?" the tailor remarked.

"Yes," he replied, "and to pay their bills!"

Watch Those Words. He—"At which point did your friend have his arm amputated?"

She—"That's a mighty respectable way to speak of a hospital."

TIME TO GO. "You know," remarked Mr. Smithers, the tailor, fondly regarding the shiny new shooting trophy on his desk, "it's a wonderful experience being the champion pistol shot of the community. You don't know how many people have been in to see me since I won the trophy yesterday!"

Make sure you get the NATCHEL kind!

-because NATCHEL Chilean Nitrate contains beneficial sodium PLUS minor plant food elements

All Nitrogen in Natchel Chilean Nitrate is fast-acting. Dissolves in normal soil moisture... is completely available to the crop. Nitrogen increases yield and improves quality of food and feed crops... more nitrate nitrogen than any other alkali nitrate... Sodium - Improves crop health and vigor... Natural Chilean Nitrate is rich in sodium - contains 25% of this element (equivalent to 35% sodium oxide). Sodium can act like potassium in potash-deficient soil. By itself, sodium increases the availability of applied phosphate... tends to have a "sweetening" effect on the soil... Rich in minor plant food elements... Natural traces of other elements are found in Chilean Nitrate. These include iodine, manganese, copper, zinc, boron, magnesium, calcium, iron and sulphur. In small quantities, these elements are essential to proper plant or animal nutrition... NATCHEL Chilean Nitrate of Soda

Farm Team

Grandfather, Girl Win

PLATTEVILLE, Wis. — A grandfather, Honey Spoke, 62, and his granddaughter, Ellen Fecht, 15, teamed up to win an interstate corn championship and a much needed tractor. The pair used a single bushel of hybrid seed corn to plant 3.23 acres and produce 1,221.15 bushels of corn to beat contestants from Wisconsin and Iowa.

The contest was to see how many bushels could be grown with one bushel of seed, and not the usual low much could be produced on a given amount of land.

Ellen is a sophomore in the Platteville high school. She likes farm work, especially in the open fields. The grandfather plowed the land in the spring and put in the corn. Then Ellen took on the job of cultivating with "Tom" and "Maid" the horse team. She worked the field six times knocking out the weeds.

Willoughby is a village of 4,500 near the shores of Lake Erie, not far from Cleveland. During the past year the police force bought for its own use and thereby public use, an ambulance equipped with radio oxygen tanks, a cot, a new type resuscitator, a motorcycle, fingerprint and photographic material and office and cruiser equipment, including radio and siren.

Funds for these purchases were raised by the policemen. Expenses incurred in previous years include purchase of desks, typewriters, shotguns, gas guns, two-way radio equipment, lockers, modernizing jail and part of the cost of three automobiles used by the department.

Chief Robert Collins reports: "In most places, when the police need money for equipment, they ask the village council for funds. But Willoughby has only a small amount of money available from taxation for operating expenses. So, we must go out and raise the money ourselves. We want to keep our efficiency and that is the only way we can do it."

Last year the policemen spent between $3,000 and $4,000 from their own funds for equipment. Since the start of the system in 1944, around $8,000 has been spent in this manner. Any money left over at the end of the year is divided equally among the policemen for purchase of their uniforms.

The chief source of funds has been benefit dances held more or less regularly at the nearby Pine Ridge country club. The policemen donate their time and efforts. Other assistance
